

Dementia's Ripple Effect

General Course

Location: LIVE Interactive Webinar

Date: January 19, 2022

Time: 12:00pm-2:00pm ET

Course Description: This LIVE Interactive Webinar workshop will provide an overview of dementia related illnesses, including Alzheimer's disease and the impact this illness can have on the individual in terms of health, wellness, and relationships. This workshop will aim to highlight the importance of building relationships and effective communication to ensure meaningful living is achieved. Through this workshop, we will look to reframe typical "problem behaviors" sometimes exhibited by individuals living with dementia as expressions of need and explore the myriad ways individuals with dementia commonly communicate their needs, especially as the illness progresses. Participants will explore strategies to proactively meet needs, to ensure quality of life is maintained. This workshop is fully interactive. Attendees may ask and answer questions throughout the presentation and participate in instructor-led discussions, as well as case vignette discussions, and a Q&A session at the end.

From this workshop you will learn to:

1. Demonstrate a foundational understanding of dementia related illnesses, including Alzheimer's disease.
2. List and describe ways in which dementia can impact a person's ability to communicate.
3. Develop strategies for relationship building between care partners and individuals living with dementia.
4. Describe the range of physical and emotional needs individuals have and how dementia affects individuals' abilities to express these needs.

Course Agenda:
